

THEO SPACE DIVIDER

Theo space divider is a sturdy, free standing panel that enables the flexible manipulation of space in the workplace. Whilst all three sizes are completely interchangeable and can be positioned together, there are no fixings involved and configurations can be rearranged with ease. The leg design allows right-angled corners to be created simply by butting the panels together or the panels can be arranged end to end to create longer runs. Accessories include matching Theo shelves and coat pegs, and all the wooden components can be stained or lacquered.

Theo is a family of furniture products designed by award winning British designer, Simon Pengelly.
